

What is Owneriate?

Owneriate is a name for a new type of affiliate system where you become the owner of a product. You will be deciding the product cost, taking all the payments and giving the product owner commission.

In this system you usually don't even have to worry about having a website, a sales page, or hosting, all you need is a domain, and probably a small setup fee.

Owneriate systems are created by Google First Position a branch of A 2 Z Web Marketing, and it is started with their new and unique SEO software "Quick Indexer".

If you are looking to have a business online, this probably means you want a website design, hosting, programming and a product to sell.

Are you wondering which product can be saleable?

Chances are, you have heard the word affiliate. You may have one or more websites are affiliates to another site. As an affiliate you don't need to worry about programming and products, as these are provided by the main website, but you still need to worry about designing and page content...etc. since these are things that you need to build an affiliate page.

Google First Position , came with new innovative ideas that are redefining the affiliate system, and started their new affiliate system with the best saleable products, their unique SEO software Quick Indexer.

They call their new affiliate system an "Owneriate," in this new system, you will be the actual owner of the product. You can own your own copy of Quick Indexer, and you decide the price, make your own sales, get all the payments and you give A 2 Z Web Marketing a commissions from the sales. It's completely opposite of the current affiliate system where you only get a commission and they get all the payments. In the Owneriate system you get the full payment and they get the commission which is set at the minimum of 25% as described by ClickBank.

A 2 Z Web Marketing is using the Owneriate system right now, with their new product "Quick Indexer," an SEO software that can get your website indexed and re-indexed by Google in a very short time. It is a tool that every website owner and SEO user is happy for its existence, which means it's a true saleable product.

You can have your very own copy of the website and the system customized to your own domain as an Owneriate, start promoting and make all the money to yourself. Give them their little commission, its you who is in control of the price of the sales, you become the actual owner, and they become the affiliates.
